Imported Chickens.

Five white chickens, which cost $100 each, arrived at the Elmendorf stock farm Saturday direct from England. They are the property of Louis Haggin, grandson of J. B. Haggin, owner of Elmendorf for whom they were bought by John Mackey when the latter recently took a consignment of thoroughbred horses from Elmendorf to England. The chickens are of the White Orpington breed and are from the pen of the fancy poultry for which Madam Paderewski recently paid $7,500. Mr. Mackey paid $500 for the five fowls sent to Mr. Haggin, and the expense of their shipment from England to Elmendorf was also a considerable sum. These are probably the highest priced chickens in Kentucky.

It is the intention of young Mr. Haggin to engage in the breeding of Orpingtons on an extensive scale, and the suitable quarters for this purpose have been provided on the DeLong farm, which is part of the Elmendorf estate.

The Telephone Question.

The petition that has been circulated among our merchants in regard to dropping one of the two telephone companies that are doing business in Paris and Bourbon county, don't appeal to us altogether as the proper thing to do. The two companies are now giving good service and there is no question about them continuing to give good service as long as both do business here.

Remove competition and it is useless for us to relate the consequences. It has been tried in other places and the public suffered. This will surely happen here if you force one of the companies out of business. We have no fight with either of the companies now here, being friendly to both and satisfied with the rates and service of both.

We do not think that two more efficient managers can be found any place than Mr. Towler, of the Home and Mr. Veatch of the East Tennessee. They are prompt in correcting all complaints, and taking everything in consideration we think it decidedly best to "let well enough alone."

Worst Has Been Told.

The worst probably has been told of the earthquake dead in Italy and public attention will turn this week to the survivors. In the case of many their fate is scarcely more to be desired than that which overtook the thousands killed outright. Gigantic measures of relief participated in by every civilized country will assume practical form this week and succor for the destitute promises to be speedy. To Americans peculiar interest will attach to the steps taken by the Government and the National Red Cross supplemented by the efforts of numberless organizations. The amount of the relief fund in this country already approaches the million-dollar mark and to-day President Roosevelt will call upon Congress for an appropriation of $500,000. Congress will also probably be asked to authorize the turning over of the cargoes of the supply-ships Celtic and Culgoa to the sufferers.

Mid-Winter Goods.

We have put aside all our holiday goods and put in their place new furniture, new carpets, rugs, etc. Our stock is new and select. No old trash in the house. If you need anything in your home come to see us and get our prices.

Old Confederate Dies.

Jerry Turner, aged 67, a former Confederate soldier, died at his home near Frankfort Saturday. Mr. Turner was injured by the explosion of a cannon ball at the battle of Shiloh and for the past three years has suffered from the old wound. He was an excellent man and citizen and was universally respected by a wide circle of friends.

Plunged Over Cliff.

Four prominent young men of Louisville—Howard Bellows, Norvin Green, Fred S. Breyfogle and J. E. Kemp, and Miss May Boswell, a member of Lexington's social set, had a narrow escape from death Sunday when the automobile in which they were riding plunged over a Kentucky river cliff at Clay's ferry. No fatal injuries were received by any of the five.

Got His Money.

Mr. Garrett Holt, an old Confederate soldier, of near town, received a check Friday from the U. S. Government for $150. This was for a horse stolen from him during the war and he had been diligently trying to get his claim allowed for fourteen years.

Increase in Business.

Express Agent John Dean, of this city, informs us that the business of the Adams Express Company in Paris increased 20 per cent. during the past year. There is no doubt that this increase is due to the hustling and efficient agent of this company, Mr. Dean. He has almost grown up in the Adams Express company's employment, and we doubt if they have an agent on the pay roll that is more popular with the public and understands the business any better than "Skinner" Dean.

Special Term of Circuit Court.

The special term of the Bourbon Circuit Court convened yesterday with Judge Sam Wilson, of Lexington, presiding. The court is to try an appeal case from the County Court styled Henry Biddells' Assignee vs. Creditors. The plaintiff is represented by McMillan & Tablott and the defendants by Judge H. C. Howard and J. J. Williams. The case was continued until this morning and looks as if it will be thrown out of court on account of several technicalities.

Court Day.

There was a large crowd in town yesterday for January court day. About 100 mules on the market and only a few changed hands, the owners keeping them for higher prices. Those that were sold brought from $150 to $200.

John Roseberry made the best sale. He sold a pair of five-year-old mare mules for $435.

Caywood & Thomason bought six mules at from $160 to $200 per head. McClintock & Sons sold a pair of mules to Jim Woodford for $360. Ed. Johnson sold four mules to Caywood Thomason for $650.

W. D. McIntyre sold two mules to Mr. Baird, of Lexington, for $325. Mr. Jesse sold two mules to Mr. James E. Clay for $360.

There were about 200 cattle on the market at the pens of M. J. Murphy and all sold. They brought from 4 to 4 1-2 cents.

To our many friends and customers who have liberally given us their patronage the past year, we desire to thank them and wish them a happy and prosperous New Year.
